ATOM 6000 - CONCEALED DOOR CLOSER

With matching slide arm & channel

Exidor's Atom concealed door closer is a small, discrete unit that fits inside of the door leaf. Its compact styling and slide arm channel help to ensure that almost all of the closer remains invisible allowing the aesthetics of the door to prevail. The hidden fitting provides further benefits where there is a high risk of vandalism.

The high performance cam action mechanism means that, whilst the closer is strong enough to close doors up to 1100mm wide, it is still light enough to offer easy opening to the user.

The 6000 series offers optional features such as backcheck or mechanical hold open.

FEATURES

- High end aesthetics due to its discrete nature
- Cam action
- Adjustable power size 2-4
- Adjustable closing speed
- Adjustable latching speed
- Narrow 32mm profile
- Opening angle up to 120°
- Non-handed
- CE & Certifire
- 10 year guarantee
- British manufactured

FIRE DOORS

Exidor's Atom concealed closer is Certifire approved for use on fire doors, with up to 60 minutes on timber doors and 240 minutes on metal doors. Concealed closers on timber fire doors must be fitted with an intumescent fire pack and smoke seals where required. These are available separately:

6000 - SLIMLINE CLOSER

With matching slide arm & channel

Exidor's highly aesthetic slimline door closer is ideal for high end developments where a face fixed closer is required. The low profile projection and slide arm ensure that the closer will complement the look of any door.

At the same time this neat little unit offers first class functionality with all the efficiency of a cam action mechanism and spring adjustable power size control.

The narrow cover projects just 35mm from the door face and can be supplied in a range of finishes to suit your project.

Exidor's 6000 series slimline closer also offers optional features such as hold open or backcheck.
